

British Columbia has the highest poverty rates in Canada and it is impacting the health of the populations we serve

Addressing Poverty as a Risk-Factor for Poor Health

Part of the Population Health Learning Series

Hear Dr. Gary Bloch present on his experience and ideas for provider-based health interventions on poverty. Learn practical ways to address poverty in your practice.

Dr. Gary Bloch is a family physician with St. Michael's Hospital and an Assistant Professor at the University of Toronto. His work includes the design and implementation of a core curriculum on addressing poverty in the University of Toronto medical school training program.

Link to full bio - Dr. Bloch

Join the discussion:

Monday, September 22, 2014

2:00-4:00pm

Host site:

Diamond Health Care Centre, R2263

Videoconference locations:

Richmond General Hospital, R1763

Lions Gate Hospital Auditorium

Registration:

Space is limited, so register early.

Register on CCRS:

<https://ccrs.vch.ca/Catalog.aspx?cid=4519>

(Physicians register using CPSID number)

The target audience for this presentation is family physicians, although other health care providers are welcome to attend.